About the Rebranding. Our vision to be your _____ and our mission to offer _____ have not changed. What has changed, however, is the bold way in which we communicate this message. Not only is our new mark a

In addition to billboards, print media, radio, and television advertisements, the college's website has also been reconstructed to coincide with our brand. (No image available as it will be under construction until our "go-live" date.) Developed using a cutting-edge, , the web page is well-suited for any device regardless of the screen size. In addition to the new design, you will find the navigation to be , , and directed toward visitor needs. For internal needs, you'll still find the "faculty/staff" link to be quite useful. To complement the clean, inviting fo
